HEALTHIER. LONGER.
BETTER LIVES

At AIA Australia (AIAA), our purpose is to make a difference. We do this by providing your clients with certainty and financial security and supporting them when they need us most.

We understand that the current economic conditions continue to be challenging for your clients. Below you'll find information to support your client conversations with options to manage the cost of their Priority Protection premiums and address any affordability concerns that may arise.

Making Policy Changes

There are a number of policy changes that you could make to help your clients retain their valuable life insurance, along with the option to review the sum insured or monthly benefits. The information below outlines some of these options and the potential premium savings for your clients. You can review your client's specific situation in the upcoming anniversaries report available on the Adviser Portal.

Please note that if your client wants to re-apply for the same benefit or same policy structure that has been altered, it might incur an additional cost or underwriting might be required.

Income Protection alterations (Closed to New Business Series)

The below options apply to Priority Protection Income Protection (closed to new business) and do not apply to our current on-sale Income Protection CORE product.

The below options are examples only and may not apply to your client. You can request a quote specific to your client's situation from AIAA or access our requote tools.
